

Keep checking back!

We are currently undergoing a website and marketing redevelopment. The same great Tru-Blu Oil service and quality you've had for the past 33 years will still be here but with a brand new look and features to represent how we are working to remain at the top of our market to make sure we can keep you at the top of yours. Keep checking back to see new information about our products, new product releases and a new online store to purchase our products quickly and conveniently in just a few steps.

Behind the scenes our manufacturing plant is undergoing our phase 2 expansion, with the installation of new blending tanks and commissioning of our AdBlue® manufacturing plant
